

Conversion to a sofa bed

The corner sofa can be converted into a sofa bed for 2 people in just a few steps.

As the illustration below shows, the pull-out element is on the left side of the couch. It can be pulled forward by slightly lifting the side section (A). When the side section is pulled out, you have access to the bed base. If necessary, remove any bed linen stored here before further conversion. The back section (R) is then folded down and joined to the side section to form a large lying surface.

The deconstruction is done in reverse order.

